Congratulations Ryan!

At Lanigan, Ryan, the growth of our people is paramount, and so our ability to promote from within gives us immense joy. Providing the education and resources to our team members to allow them to engage with and assist our clients in a meaningful way and advance their careers in the process, is the reason why we believe our firm continues to grow alongside the businesses that we guide. This is also one of the many reasons why we think our firm is one of the best accounting firms to work for (and Accounting Today agrees, having named us a Best Accounting Firm to Work For, 8 of the last 10 years).
