Brown Edwards Moves Up in Top 100 Ranking

Roanoke, VA, August 12, 2019— INSIDE Public Accounting (IPA) announces the release of its 2019 annual financial performance analysis and ranking of the nation’s largest public accounting firms. Roanoke, Virginia based Brown Edwards is among the nation’s top 100 firms again this year, moving up eight spots to #87. The rankings are based on 2018 U.S. net revenue. IPA is the industry’s leading trade newsletter, and the report is the most accurate listing of the nation’s largest accounting firms based on fiscal performance.

Brown Edwards CEO Jason Hartman says, “We are very pleased that Brown Edwards has once again ranked among the largest and most successful firms in the nation. Our continuing growth is a result of the confidence our clients have in our work and our successful M & A activity over the past few years.”

Brown Edwards is a full-service regional accounting firm with offices in three states. In addition to the traditional auditing, accounting, and taxation services, the firm provides industry leading service to a diverse clientele including contractors, state and local government entities, private education institutions, regional and community financial institutions, healthcare providers, distributors, real estate developers, retailers/wholesalers, and not-for-profit organizations.
